President's Notes

[As I am vacationing with my family at the time of this deadline, I offer last year's president's notes, with a few edits, and the promise of an original piece next month. I hope all are enjoying the summer. -TET].

Developmental Minister Search

The DMTF - Developmental Minister Task Force has met twice with a third meeting scheduled for July 30. The purpose of DMTF is to define the KSA's (knowledge, skills, abilities) UUCG needs in a developmental minister to move the congregation forward while retaining our basic identity and philosophy.

A series of 5 Cottage Meetings are scheduled and will be announced to the congregation beginning July 21st. Each congregant is encouraged to sign up for one (1) of the Meetings to socialize with other members but more importantly to express their opinions and desires for UUCG's forward path.

Any committee that is the slightest use is composed of people who are too busy to want to sit on it for a second longer than they have to.

--Katharine Whitehorn, British journalist, writer, and columnist

I suspect many in the congregation will immediately see both the humor and the touch of wisdom in the above statement. Indeed, the most effective people often find themselves having to prioritize both their time and their interests, in order to maintain their effectiveness. And yet, only those committees that are composed of (and lead by) effective people stand any chance of succeeding. Committees are, after all, intended to serve as "working groups" tasked with decision making and implementation of those decisions. Obviously, a church committee serves several other functions (socialization, fellowship, even spiritual exploration and growth), but at the end of the day, the success or failure of a committee is often measured in terms of how well it functions in achieving the desired "product" or "task".

I have to admit, with the first Program Council meeting of the year later this month, I am excited about our congregation's potential. Led by our Board VP, Shannon Terry, the meeting will be attended by the chairs and co-chairs of each congregational committee, as well as several board members, and our minister, if possible. Each leader will take turns discussing how their committee fits into overall congregational life, and provide an overview of their committee's tasks, goals, needs, and challenges. We truly have some inspirational leaders in our midst. We also have some exciting challenges ahead of us this year.

Worship Services

August 4 “Inspired by Art” Led by Ray Sobel

We will wrap up our summer series by hearing from the artists in our midst and how art inspires their lives. Join your fellow UUCG members and friends to be inspired.

August 11 “When the Pupil is Ready the Teacher Will Come”
Led by Rev. Rod Thompson, Interim Minister

I first heard this ancient Oriental saying many years ago and have struggled with it from time to time ever since. I don't want to imply that I am “The Teacher,” still there may be something for all of us to learn in this idea. See you in church.

August 18 “The Inherent Worth and Dignity of Every Person”
Led by Rev. Rod Thompson, Interim Minister

This is the first of the promised services focusing on our Unitarian Universalist Principles. As members of a congregation in the Unitarian Universalist Association we are called to “affirm and promote” these principles. What does that mean? How difficult can that be? I'll share my thoughts and listen to yours. See you in church.

August 25 “Pushed and Called”

Led by Rev. Rod Thompson, Interim Minister

When I first heard these two words used together as a sermon title I was so intrigued, that I just had to borrow them as a title for my sermon that looks at how people interact, one on one; how people work within a congregation; how people reach out beyond their congregation; and how congregations make decisions about growth, governance, and everything else. I look forward to sharing these images with you. See you in church.

Surrounded by Art

Our Surround Gallery is featuring an exhibit of art from the collections of members and friends of the congregation. Please stop to enjoy the display which will be up through the month of August. A warm “thank you” to the art lovers for sharing their interesting possessions.

Rod's Ruminations

As we begin this year of interim ministry together, I want to again tell you how pleased Mary and I are to be with you for this coming year. August is going to be an exciting month in the life of the congregation. In addition to the inspiring 10:30 services that the Worship committee and I will be offering, Hogwarts will be finishing, and plans for applying for a Developmental Ministry will be laid out for you. The 1st day of September will be our Ingathering - intergenerational mingling of the waters service. If you wish, don't forget to bring to that service the water sample you gathered from your summer. 2013-14 is going to be an exciting and productive year for all of us. See you soon!

That's where you come in. If you have ever had an interest in getting involved with the church, now is the time to do something about it. Maybe you already have a personal interest to champion. Perhaps you have a particular skill set or talent to share. Or you wish to develop new skills. Or, maybe you are new to the church and want to meet others with shared interests. Perhaps you are looking for a non-financial way to contribute. You may even be thirsting for the opportunity to heighten your own spiritual development. Or perhaps you are just tired of how things have been in the past, and want to inject some fresh ideas. Whatever your reason for wanting to get involved, I urge you to find a committee (or several) that will benefit from your involvement, then get to work. Who knows, you may even deepen your connections to other members of the congregation, the community at large, or even your own spiritual understanding in the process.

Minimum Wage Statement

(from the UU Service Committee, www.uusc.org)

UUA President, Rev. Peter Morales, and UUSC President, Rev. Bill Schulz, are asking UUs to sign the Minimum Wage Statement. Millions of low-wage workers in our country work hard day in and day out and still can't afford life's basic necessities. It is time to ask that everyone share in corporate success, not just a handful of executives. As people of faith, we believe in the inherent worth and dignity of every person, and raising the minimum wage is vital in ensuring that dignity. This is more than a political issue — it is a moral imperative. Find out more at http://actnow.uusc.org/site/PageNavigator/UUA_UUSC_Minimum_Wage_Statement.html

Religious Education

Greetings from Youth Religious Education!

We're enjoying our summer classes from a "magical" point of view with our UU Hogwarts Academy. Who wouldn't enjoy a Care of Magical Creatures class about snakes, or a Potions class where you get to make pudding? Some of our upcoming lessons are going to include Muggle Studies and learning about Merpeople. We'll wrap up our summer by transforming the large RE room into Hogsmead, where the children can "shop" for goodies and treats, on August 25th.

We're still having fun with our summer classes, but there is plenty going on behind the scenes to get ready for our classes this fall. We're tasked with choosing Religious Education curricula that are appropriate and engaging for the children in our congregation. In order to do that well, we need to know which children will be attending, and what their needs are. To that end, I would like to thank the parents who have already filled out RE registration forms. If you have children who are planning on attending RE classes this fall and have not yet filled out a registration form, please contact me or our Director of Religious Education, Kimberly Scholl, and we'll make sure you get a copy of the necessary forms.

Each member is encouraged to sign up and attend one of the Cottage Meetings to ensure that the broadest base of opinions/wishes is captured by DMTF. This will enable us to be more precise in our communications with UUA to identify a developmental minister.

Thank you in advance for your participation.
Signed – DMTF (Cam, Brenda, Ruel, Teresa, Ann)
